

Sous Chef Mackenzie McCue

Sous Chef McCue will collaborate with his alma mater, Moanalua High School.

Hawai'i-born Mackenzie McCue is scaling the culinary stratum. From a starting position as a dishwasher at Applebee's, McCue ascended the ranks to assume a lead line cook and inventory managerial role before realizing his desire to pursue a career as a chef. Graduating from Leeward Community College with an associate's degree in culinary arts and hospitality in 2021, McCue became part of the team at MW Restaurant as line cook. After two short years, he was promoted to the position of Sous Chef, where he integrated his professional skills, academics, and experience, ignited by a newfound passion. He was then assigned the role of Sous Chef at Artizen by MW, where he continues to pursue innovative approaches that elevate Hawaii's comfort-driven cuisine, a hallmark of the MW Restaurant brand.
